

Preston Ely's Recommended Reading

"The following books are recommended reading for all takers of The Red Pill. They are the best of the hundreds I've read over the years. They've made me who I am. Read them, and you will unfortunately become me. Scary ... but fun."

- Preston

1. The Bible (start in the book of John and also read one chapter of proverbs per day to avoid being an idiot. I do this every morning.)
2. My E-book at www.learntowholesale.com
3. No More Christian Nice Guy by Paul Coughlin
4. A$$hole: How I Got Rich And Happy By Not Giving A Damn About Anyone by Martin Kihn
(I do not subscribe to his philosophy of life, HOWEVER... there is a huge key to success in the pages of these books. The basic premise is true: Nice guys don't get money. Don't be nice.
I don't even know you, but I'm willing to bet your main problem is you are simply way too nice.)
5. Blue Like Jazz by Donald Miller (this could be the most book you ever read. It was for me.)
6. If you are a single male, you need to go through all of David D'Angelo's home study courses. All of them. Again, I don't subscribe to his philosophy of life, but I have learned a great deal from him. Start here → www.doubleyourdating.com
7. Read everything by Dave Barry (the humor columnist for the Miami Herald) if you would like to become funny. Start with his book called Money Secrets, but make sure you're not drinking anything while reading it; it'll come out your nose. Also read Comedy Writing Secrets by Melvin Helitzer.
8. The Seasons Of Life by Jim Rohn. Also buy every single other thing he has ever written. I plagiarize him routinely.

9. The Power Of Positive Thinking by Norman Vincent Peale
10. Be A Better You by Joel Osteen (I just finished going through the audio book in my car and am now going through it a second time)
11. The Treasure Principle by Randy Alcorn

13. Unlimited Selling Power by Donald Moine and Kenneth Lloyd
14. MUST HAVE!!!! Mike Collins' Online Wholesaling Course MUST HAVE!!!!
15. Secrets of the Millionaire Mind – T Harv Eker
16. The Dream Giver by Bruce Wilkinson
